

Quarter-Life

Winslow

Quarter-life

You ever searched your soul and felt like theres nothing left?

You ever come face to face with yourself?

You ever felt the eyes of the whole world were watching youbut no one could ever see the truth?

Stumble and fall and no one will save you.

You just feel like throwing it all away.Its my quarter-life crisis.

Its my borderline insanity.

To the left of the right direction

And everyone seems to say they seem to think they seem to feel they really knowbut you.You ever reached so high but felt so afraidand didnt know the reason why?

You ever worked so hard to finally realize

It has all come down to this?

Standing so tall

Clinging to everything the world wants you to loseIts my quarter-life crisis.

Its my borderline insanity.

To the left of the right direction

And everyones seems to say they seem to think they seem to feel they really knowbut you.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>