A Song In the Key of Sex

Lorene Drive

I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I feel it when you're near me
How could I ever forget youI feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I feel it when you're near me
How could I ever forget youI've got a pocket full of roses
These thorns are sticking in my side
I didn't lie when I told you
I simply never ever lieAll I have are these Promises that you
Gave to me
You haven't broken yetI feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
How could I ever forget youI love the rhythm in your body
And I know you love it too
I love it when you're near me
Goddamn I'd love to forget youYour best bet is some Bad advice so just
Paint me white
'Cause I surrender foreverI feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
How could I ever forget youI feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
How could I ever forget you
How can I ever forget you[Incomprehensible]
[Incomprehensible]
I feel the rhythm in your bodyI feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
And I surrender so regretful
How could I ever forget youI feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
Your best bet is bad advice
So paint me white
