

Another Feeling

Left Alone

Another feeling, another feeling
I was waiting there for you
All the times when I realized
All the things she put me through
Another night, another fight, it don't seem right
I was driving on my way home
I know the feeling, it won't be leaving
Any fucking time soon
I don't want this anymore
Is the first thing she said now
As she walked outside my door
Another feeling, another feeling
I was driving on Saturday night
All the times when I realized
All the things just weren't right
Another night, another fight, it don't seem right
I was driving on my way home
I know the feeling, it won't be leaving
Any fucking time soon
I don't want this anymore
Is the first thing she said now
As she walked outside my door
Another feeling, another feeling
I was waiting there for you
All the times when I realized
All the things she put me through
Another night, another fight, it don't seem right
I was driving on my way home
I know the feeling, it won't be leaving
Any fucking time soon
I don't want this anymore
Is the first thing she said now
As she walked outside my door
