Landed

A Guy Called Gerald

Hello, hello, brave, new world
It feels so good to be here
The earth looks very beautiful
Spinning in her atmosphereI've cut the lifeline and I don't mind
I've cut the lifeline for good this timeI have landed, I have landed
Nothing broken or bruised
Nothing left I cannot lose
This time everything's fine, yeahThe earth looks very delicate
A blue green jewel in a star crust bowl of inky black
Until my planet want me backI've cut the lifeline, no, they don't mind
I've cut the lifeline for good this timeI have landed, I have landed
Nothing broken or bruised
This time everything's fine
I have landed, I have landedDon't my people want me back?
They'll turn on when I have my crash, make my splash
Another nine day wonder to fill the news
By then I'll be long gone, by then I'll be long goneI have landed, I have landed
Nothing broken or bruised
This time everything's fine, yeahI have landed, I have landed
I have landed, I have landedHello, hello, hello, hello, brave new world
I've cut the lifeline, I've cut the lifeline
And I don't mindI have landed, I have landed
Oh, I've landed for good this time
