

Lining Your Pockets

Ocean Colour Scene

You've been linin' your pockets for no other reason
Than to buy up the things that I gave without reasonable payWell, hello my friend
You know I've been away
I'm not askin' for much
But please remember my name'Coz you've been linin' your pockets for no other reason Than to buy up the things that I gave without reasonable payWell I wondered through fortune
And I flirted with fame
But we never got the money
We always gave it awaySee if you've been linin' your pockets for no other reason
Than to buy up the things that I gave without reasonable payOld benchmark on the park he got lost on the world
But he don't seem to know about any of it at all
He said, "All the things that I wanted
You know I had to pay and pay and pay and so I say" You've been linin' your pockets for no other reason
Than to buy up the things that I gave without reasonable pay, yeaYou've been lining your pockets for no other reason
Than to buy up the things that I gave without reasonable pay, yeaYou've been lining your pockets for no other
reason
Than to buy up the things that I gave without reasonable pay, yeaYou've been lining your pockets for no other
reason
Than to buy up the things that I gave without reasonable pay, yea
