

White Buffalo

Running Wild

Acid rain and poison cauterize its skin
A boiling hell we're living in
Bloodstained animals, chainsaw rip the trees
The gasping earth is on its knees Choking breath, causing death
Exploitation is your law
Overkill, break its will
You loot it hard and raw Like you killed the white buffalo
You kill ozone, you break its bones
Like you killed the white buffalo
You tan its hide, sell its meat on the side Once a source of glory, now a reborn hell
Your ivory tower is where you dwell
Gulping its vital lifeblood, pollution's rising high
You squeeze it out, you leave it dry Choking breath, causing death
Exploitation is your law
Overkill, break its will
You loot it hard and raw Like you killed the white buffalo
You kill ozone, you break its bones
Like you killed the white buffalo
You tan its hide, sell its meat on the side Headless spraying poison
Contaminating air and ground
A misplaced sense of progress
Will destroy the pound for pound Allergies and cancer
The pay for evil greed
Madness and corruption
Have shown their evil seed Acid rain and poison cauterize its skin
A boiling hell we're living in
Bloodstained animals, chainsaw rip the trees
The gasping earth is on its knees Choking breath, causing death
Exploitation is your law
Overkill, break its will
You loot it hard and raw Like you killed the white buffalo
You kill ozone, you break its bones
Like you killed the white buffalo
You tan its hide, sell its meat on the side Like you killed the white buffalo
You kill ozone, you break its bones
Like you killed the white buffalo
You tan its hide, sell its meat on the side On the side
Killed the white buffalo
