The Hurt

Hillary Wallace and the Death

You didn't know how I felt
That's because you didn't ask
As I slept through each day
Not one phone call back

And how am I supposed to let you go
When I didn't have nothing to hold on to in the first place
And every time I leave you I feel alone
But I try to walk away with grace

But every time I turn around
I fall face down in the dirt
And I know it's hard for you to look at me
When the only thing that you can seem to see
Is hurt

I've been waiting for too many years
For answers I'm never gonna get
I know you hate to see the tears
Just don't wanna leave oh yeah

I wonder will you ever be
The one that wants to give it all to me
And will it ever be like older times
When I was yours and you were mine

Cause every time I turn around
I fall face down in the dirt
And I know it's hard for you to look at me
But the only thing that you can seem to see
Is hurt

Lyrics Submitted by Alexa Petroff

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/