

Sieves and Seizures

After The Sirens

I've been tearing at this gauze over my eyes and clanging cymbals till I couldn't hear your screaming anymore. I used to speak in the tongues of angels, all I ever say now is goodbye. And I'll set myself on fire as a beacon through the shadow that my life has been but I would only smolder because I would not burn for anyone when I had the chance. I used to speak in the tongues of angels, all I ever say now is goodbye.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>