

Come to You

Carina Round

Can you honestly expect me to take you seriously
When you've put nothing on the line at all?
When you say you cant believe in believing
Are you setting yourself up to fall?And I will not wait for someone to save me
Watching it come, then pass you by
Something inside is keeping the fear aliveI will not come to you, I will not come to you
I will not come to you, I
I won't give nothing for such empty reflections
Such high expectation will burn in your handsDo you recognize when people break you down
And there is no time to build another wall?
Well, you walk fast and you talk fast
But you don't move at allI will not come to you, I will not come to you
I will not come to you, I
I won't give nothing for such empty reflections
Such high expectation will burn in your handsYou tell yourself, it's the wrong time, it's the wrong time
And things go by, in the meantime, in the meantimeAnd I will not come to you, I will not come to you
I will not come to you, I
I will not come to you, I will not fall with you
I will not carry you, nothing is wrong with youYou can't deliver, wrapped up in the future
And nothing will come to you, nothing will come to you
Nothing will come to you, nothing will come to you
Such high expectation will burn in your hands

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>