

Revenger

Fold Zandura

She's got silver and she's got wine
All my attention and she's taking all my time
She's got treacherous marine eyes
She's got me sinking so deep, she's taking all my time
Taking all my time
Planning to come back
When it makes a lot more sense
And I tried and tried to justify revenge
She wants control of the grand design
She wants the world at her feet and takes all my time
She plans perfectly perfect crimes
She's stealing secrets from me, she takes all my time
Taking all my time
Planning my comeback
Now it doesn't make much sense
And I tried and tried to justify revenge
Now it's plain to see
(You should try to forget her)
How she's ruined me
(You should really forget her)
Now I ache to feel
But the longer I wait
(You should try to forgive her)
The longer it's gonna take
(You should really forgive her)
For my faith to heal
She's got silver and she's got wine
More than compassion from me
And threw away my time
Threw away my time
Planning my comeback
When it never made much sense
Nothing ever justifies revenge
Revenge, revenge, revenge
Revenge, revenge, yeah
