On My Knees

Bob Carlisle

Stand with all my might and still I seem to fall
I try to walk before I even crawl
Ohh, it seems I'm like a child in me again
A helpless heart, a broken man
Strength is something that?s so very hard to find
But still I know the truth it must be blind
So I sacrifice my heart to God in prayer
Lay my weakness down and I?ll find you there
I can stand tall
On my knees, I can see forever
On my knees, I can face it all
I feel like I can climb a mountain
'Cause on my knees the world's
A little smaller and I stand taller on my knees
See a man in a garden long ago me went along
As the weight of sins unseen and lies unknown
Came to rest upon his weary shoulders
He knew my name, he took my pain
So I can stand tall
On my knees, I can see forever
On my knees, I can face it all
I feel like I can climb a mountain
'Cause on my knees the world's
A little smaller and I stand taller on my knees
There?s a piece that shadows anything I know
I lay down every burden and I'm free
On my knees, I can see forever
On my knees, I can face it all
I feel like I can climb a mountain
'Cause on my knees the world's
A little smaller and I stand taller on my knees
