

Green Man

Mark Owen

Early morning juices blend, he chooses
Bowl of seed, and water cleanses.
Caffeine free, with herbs for tea.
Clear and fresh, he won't be tempted.
High on see, he's staring at me.
We make us seem far apart.
Dead for a while, resurrects with a smile.
Pulls my conscience inside apart.Green Man,
I'll take a leaf from your book.
Found a new love.
I say: peace, man.
Green Man,
I'll take a leaf from your book.
Found a new love.
I say: peace, man.Second sight, no sense of fight.
He lives his life for the moment.
He stands like a god, an enlightetned god.
Ruby centers his crown.
Man of Wealth, loaded with health.
Alien, with a mother's heart.
Magic man, with your save-Earth plan.
Thanks for giving me my part.Green Man,
I'll take a leaf from your book.
Found a new love.
I say: peace, man.
Green Man,
I'll take a leaf from your book.
Found a new love.
I say: peace, man.

Songwriters

OWEN,MARKPublished by

Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing, BMG RIGHTS MANAGEMENT US, LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>