Yellow Hotel

Nick Styles

Head in the clouds, I left my rain and looked towards the sun
Walked straight into a prison painted gold yellow hotels
And too much sunshine burning my skin
And the folks who drink in that town
Dont want me there, now it beginsIm living in a yellow hotel
Im living in a yellow hotel
I've been staying in the sunshine town
I've been staying in the sunshine town
I've been walking in the sunshine townPeople are walking through me when I am just walking around
Downtown in the sunshineIm thinking, Im feeling like I should be moving to be where I belong, so long
And back where I am from they are freezing to their bones in the Sunshine life, in paradise, you can feel so aloneIm living in a yellow hotel, Im living in a yellow hotel,
But I would crawl through snow to be back where Im known
To be back home from a yellow hotelI've been staying in the sunshine town
I've been staying in the sunshine town
