Erase All Memory

32 Leaves

Hey there, what have we to hide?
Together you and I aren't to blame here
Faker, though you won't be surprised
The leaders of our times aren't so sacred
Mistaken, such fallible desires
Rests within the minds of dictators
Fame for all of their ridiculing fire
What a waste of time, I must say
Erase all memory, start me all over again
My fate has brought me only pain, start me all over again

Hey there, high above the clouds
Why can't you figure out what they're saying?
Pray and just tell me who's devine
Together who's advice aren't we taking?
Mistaken, infallible desires
Rests within the minds of the hated
Blame for all of their ridiculing fire
What a waste of time, I must say
Start me all over
