

First Time for Everything

Little Texas

I don't stay out all night, I don't close down the bars
And I don't make a fool of myself
Well, I don't drink too much and I don't get too loud
And I don't ever raise too much hell But there's a first time for everything, since you said goodbye
There's not much of anything that I haven't tried
To somehow get over you, there's no tellin' what I might do
'Cause if I've learned anything, there's a first time for everything I don't call up old flames 'cause I don't have a black book
I don't spend all my time in the past
I don't wake up with strangers 'cause I don't sleep around
No I don't believe in love that won't last But there's a first time for everything, since you said goodbye
There's not much of anything that I haven't tried
To somehow get over you, there's no tellin' what I might do
'Cause if I've learned anything, there's a first time for everything Yeah yeah When I somehow get over you, there's no tellin' what I might do
'Cause if I've learned anything, there's a first time for everything Yeah yeah
'Cause if I've learned anything, there's a first time for everything, yeah
Yeah yeah yeah
