Crowded Room

The Academy Is...

Excuse me, yeah I?m talking to you
Look in the mirror, could you tell me what you see?
Hard hearts are crashing in a crowded room
You never felt so good, you never felt so free
Save you from yourself
Before you start to deal with everyone else
You should have kept it to yourself
Now we?re looking to fight, this isn?t alright
Alright, you better hold your scripted tongue
If you ever plan to use those words again
The future doesn?t make much sense
With you at the helm with your friends
This is where that ends
You?ve got a problem here
The tide is turning you inside out
This won?t take long, your reign is done
We are the innocent ones
You can?t take back the damage done
This is the last time you will shine
Spare us your excuse
'Cause this exercise of self-abuse
Will swallow everything that you hold dear
The further you are the closer we get

The more you need to hold your scripted tongue
If you ever plan to use those words again
The hallways are filled with silence
And gawking stares that don?t care
This is where that ends
You?ve got a problem here
The tide is turning you inside out
This won?t take long, your reign is done
We are the innocent ones
You can?t take back the damage done
This is the last time, last time
This won?t take long, your reign is done
We are the innocent ones
You can?t take back the damage done
This is the last time you will shine

The last time you will shine
The last time you will shine, shine
This won?t take long, your reign is done
We are the innocent ones
You can?t take back the damage done
This is the last time you will shine, shine
This is the last time
