

No Spare Key

Honeyblood

Do you ever feel like your brain
Might be conspiring against you?
It keeps you awake at night
And it ends up just you and your dirty mind
Take yourself for a rideOh, but you don't need these thoughts
I love you only
Said you need to keep me under locks, but
My love it ain't phoney
I am yours until you don't want me
There's no spare key
There's no spare key, babyI'm in the dog house tonight
Sleeping under the stars
Wishing I was waking up in my boy's arms
But he's got a pure heart
And old habits die hard
And I'll cook him breakfast
Baby, I'll wash your carOh, but you don't need these thoughts
I love you only
Said you need to keep me under locks, but
My love it ain't phony
I am yours until you don't want me
There's no spare key
There's no spare key, babyHe said
Yeah, well, I know what love is
And that's why I never got any sleep last night
He said, well, I know what love is
And that's why I never got any sleep last nightI know what love is
That's why I never got any sleep last night
Yeah, yeah, well, I know that love is
That's why I never got any sleep last night
