

You Never Know

Goo Goo Dolls

You never know
Some folks think the world just moves too slow
But was it you
Who told me I'm your everything You hit me like I never felt before
Hit me like a sucker punch, rotten to the core, you know
You know you hit me like I've never felt before
Silly for the last time You never take
A promise from a man who sheds his skin
You had to wait
For my aching heart to break You hit me like I never felt before
Hit me like a sucker punch, rotten to the core, you know
You hit me like I've never felt before
Silly for the last time Now everyone gets angry
And I feel it when you're holding me
But in the right place, at the right time
To the right degree, it's a breeding ground
For the pain I've found from dealing with your scene And you know that ain't easy
That ain't easy
That ain't easy
That ain't easy You hit me like I never felt before
You hit me like I never felt before
I'm silly for the last time
