Is This a Life?

Depui

all that glitter and gold doesnt feel my soul
waiting for the perfect storm to rise stranded by the wheel searching for the road
i keep my head up high towards the lights

is this my tune
waiting for a life that never change
stranded down alone
is this a life

is this a life
dont want to wait and fall
im going for the end

out the window in my room i see them children run i dont recall the meaning of fun think about the old days when the solid tune was bliss today all we ever need is a kiss

is this a life?

im about to go insane
please eat my brain
the monsters is my head i greet them in my bed

is this the life that ive been waiting for im heading for the end [x4]
