

Country Girl

B.B. King

You know my little girl, she's a country girl
Yes my little girl, she's a country girl
But she means more to me than anything in this world Yeah she fix my breakfast lunch and dinner
And she bring it all home on time
She fix my breakfast lunch and dinner
And bring it all home on time
Yes you know I'm glad to be back home, hey with this little girl of mine You know I'm glad, glad, glad, I'm glad to be back home at last Oh I'm glad, glad, glad girl, I'm so glad to be back home at last Since I've seen my baby yeah how many days have passed Yeah you know I flew into the station about six forty-five
Yes my plane it made it into the station this morning about six forty-five
Yes you should've seen my baby's face to see my plane arrive Yes it made me feel so good to walk into the door
Oh it made me feel so good to walk into the door
You know and find everything the same even my pallet layin' on the floor And I said, "Hi hi baby I won't worry you no more"
Oh I said, "Hi hi hi baby, I won't ever worry you no more
You know I'm back where I belong and I ain't goin' outta that door"

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>