The Green Light

Happy Jawbone Family Band

I won my lips at the county fair
A thousand years ago
They're made of glass, but they get the job done
And they shudder at the sound of your nameI lose my head and I start to foam
Well, I've never looked such a mess
You gotta get me home, get me back in my bed
Honey, can't you have a heart?C'mon nowHave a heart (have a heart)
Have a heart (have a heart)
Have a heart (have a heart)
Have a heart (have a heart)Won't you cut me off a slice of that green light?
Show me a little bit more of that green light
I wanna feel it inside me now, green light
I just can't get enough of that green lightI don't care much for that life of glass
Let the lion's drug sorrow me
I'm gonna hide my hands on the roof of your house
I'm gonna fill your closets with leavesYou laid me down that secret path
That you never should have known before
But it's a real hot bath and it's made of green light
And it shudders at the sound of your nameC'mon nowHave a heart (have a heart)
Have a heart (have a heart)
Have a heart (have a heart)
Have a heart (have a heart)Won't you cut me off a slice of that green light?
Show me a little bit more of that green light
I wanna feel it inside me now, green light
I just can't get enough of that green light
