Rainbo Conversation

Stereolab

I yearn for romantic compassion
To love is my sole aspiration
For thee who has love in a million
That has burnt unto consternationAll those who're pig-faced and [Incomprehensible]
Glowing for our faces and our hearts
Fusing at the sad transformation
That has sadly altered the balanceIt had to end, became too disappointing
Another end leading a new beginning
I'll try again, the right one will come along
I need someone intoxicating and strongI yearn for romantic compassion
To love is my sole aspiration
For thee who has love in a million
That has burnt unto consternationIt had to end, became too disappointing
Another end leading a new beginning
I'll try again, the right one will come along
I need someone intoxicating and strong
