

Never You Mind

Semisonic

Saturday morning alone and barely feeling
Sitting at home after rocking and a-reeling

All night in a cat fight

With the only one who can make me cry
Open the blinds and the world is in rotation
Shaking my mind like an etch-a-sketch erasing

Sunshine, you were bad, I'm

Still mad but I can't remember why

I believe you know me well

I react like you're ringing a bell

Are you sorry that you treat me unkind

Never you mind

Rolling along to the song that aggravates us
Beckoned on by the mirage of an oasis

Hurry, I'm getting blurry

And it's no longer clear in my mind

I believe you know me well

I react like you're ringing a bell

Are you sorry that you treat me unkind

Never you mind

I believe I got you down

You react like anybody else around

Are you sorry that we wasted our time

Never you mind

Some days it takes all my time guessing why I can't figure it out

Some days it takes all my energy just to forget about

All the memories that I'd be better off without

I believe you know me well

Switch on the box Mr. Spock is on the table

Dr. McCoy is unable to connect his brain

Sweating and straining

Well it seemed so simple at the time

I believe you know me well

I react like you're ringing a bell

Are you sorry that you treat me unkind

Never you mind

I believe I got you down

You react like anybody else around

Are you sorry that we wasted our time

Never you mind
Never you mind
Never you mind
Never you mind
