Lonely Tonight

Number Station

6th and green is a warm place in November
When the air is cold and the leaves blow on the ground
And I don't think that I can even remember
Why it was that i came to this townBecause I just want to be lonely tonight
Just me and my maker in this cold moonlightThis is me on the eve of an ending
To what I've known's been constant for a year
And I'm so scared of this pain that I'll be sending Sometimes I just want to run away in fearBecause I just want to be lonely tonight
Just me and my maker in this cold moonlightNo, I haven't heard your voice in two weeks now
And anticipation's been wearing me thin
And I just can't help but wonderin' baby if somehow
We could tear these pages out and begin againBecause I just want to be lonely tonight
Just me and my maker in this cold moonlight
I just want to be lonely tonight
With no one around to see the sight
Of me lying here'Cause this is the hardest thing I've ever done before
I said this is the hardest thing I've ever done before
And I don't want to be lonely
But I won't be lonely tonight
Because my maker's holding me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/