When You Look Like That

Thomas Rhett

You said you only had time for one drink
But that dress that you're wearing says a whole 'nother thing
You laugh and you smile and you wink
Got my head spinning 'round like a roller rink
It's going places we've never been
And it's getting better with every tonic and gin
Got a Hollywood glow on your skin
Wearin' that "I will if you will" grinHow are we not supposed to crawl to the next bar
Make out on the dance floor, take it too far
Out the back door, leave an open tab
When you look like that?
And tell me how am I supposed to keep my hands to myself
When you're making my mind wander somewhere else?
It's on a one-way track when you look like that
How am I supposed to play it cool
With that sexy "don't pull away" move
I love watching you break your own rules
Come on, let me help you break a few of 'emNow how are we not supposed to crawl to the next bar
Make out on the dance floor, take it too far
Out the back door, leave an open tab
When you look like that?
And tell me how am I supposed to keep my hands to myself
When you're making my mind wander somewhere else?
It's on a one-way track when you look like thatLike a couple million bucks, a bombshell deluxe
Girl, you got it all together, why you messing me up?
I'm seeing you and me as the honkey tonk dream
Saying, girl, we're on a roll
And how are we not supposed to take another lap around the bar
And make a pit stop, your place, my place, any place
I wanna make it last when you look like
When you look like that, yeah
When you look like that, baby
When you look, when you look like that
You just do something to my soul, I just can't describe it
When you look like that
Hey, yeah, yeah, yeah
You drive me crazy when you look like
Look like that, baby
