

Day By Day

Benjamin Francis Leftwich

I wasn't the only one loving you when you fell to the floor
Looking up, you said, "What a view I want to dive in it all"
The minute you were carried away Day by day, moon by moon
We make our ways
And some time, you may find
That all may be the same I wasn't the only one loving you when you fell to the floor
I could see some lovers coming through who had held you before
Every minute we get carried away Day by day, moon by moon
We make our ways
And some time, you may find
That all may be the same Believe in a dream
You weren't the only one loving me as I fell to the floor
I came over to be feeling free but we lied even more
