It's Time Again

Reactive Black

It's time again to stop for a while
It's time again to rest
It's time again to make a break
It's time again to reflect

It's time again to take these days
It's time again to pray
It's time again to think about
It's time again, just time again

It's time again to see the world in my eyes
It's time again 'cause everything inside
Dies so slow

It's time again

It's time again to see the world through my eyes
It's time again 'cause everything inside
Dies so slow

It's time again, so I look back
So much I left behind

It's time again so where's my way
It's time again to find

It's time again
To see the world in my eyes
It's time again
