Province

Endeci

Suddenly all your history's ablaze
Try to breathe as the world disintegrates
Just like autumn leaves we're in for change
Holding tenderly to what remainsAnd all your memories are as precious as gold
And all the honey, and the fire which you stole
Have you runnin' through all your red cheek days
Shakin' loose these songs from their sacred hidin' spaceHold your heart courageously
As we walk into this dark place
Stand, stare fast, erect and see
That love is the province of the bravePush under this expanse of buzzing stars
Let this burnin' brightly illuminate where we are
Fill this hallow that lovers voices occupy
Let it follow that we let it free, let it flyBreaking open the walls of this cage
Intoxicated, oh, so amazed
Much like falcons tumblin' from our hearts that blaze
Oh come join, arms engagedHold these hearts courageously
As we walk into this dark place
Stand, stare fast beside me and see
That love is the province of the brave
