I'm Leaving Now

Yours Truly

Light a match to burn it down, thats what she said oh.
Build it up just to tear it to the ground, that was her plan oh no.
I dont know where youre going. but I know just where youve been
And if I think youre worth my time, then Ill see you againIll leave you just when you need me
What a cruel way to show you my reality
Ill crush you just so I can feel alive
Ill know Ive done it right when I see the tears
In your eyes.Burn a bridge to watch you drown
Kill the king to steal his crown
Id do anything to make sure youre not around anymore
Fake a smile to avoid
Everything that you destroyed
Its amazing how you never took the time to settle one last score.Over and over I asked you whats wrong
Over and over you strung me along
Now Im over it, cant believe I waited this long
Now, over and over Ill sing you this song.Just burn it down, so you know my true intentions
Just burn it down.
