

Vertigo

Madeline Juno

This life is not the reason why I keep brething on.
Addiction and a feeling,
it's fear and lust in one.
To know you is to love you cause love is when it hurts.
So I'm crawling up to meet you above the universe. Your love is my vertigo.
You're taking me high.
Your love is my vertigo
and it's making me cry.
I try to forget
that you let me fall so deep again.
And I pray this is the end
but I need to fly with you again...
with you again.
From here this world seems easy
up here we're everything.
So tell me what's the reason why I keep giving in... Your love is my vertigo.
You're taking me high.
Your love is my vertigo
and it's making me cry.
I try to forget
that you let me fall so deep again.
And I pray this is the end
but I need to fly with you again...
with you again...
I'm drowning too deep.
A thousand miles under the sea.
Please, please help me...
I'm flying too high,
a thousand miles
above the sky.
Why, tell me why
do you take me there?
Between life and death?
Oooh... Oooh... Your love is my vertigo.
You're taking me high.

Your love is my vertigo
and it's making me cry.
I try to forget
that you let me fall so deep again.
And I pray this is the end
but I need to fly with you again...
with you again...
with you again...
with you again...
