

My World

Sick Puppies

I'm not coming back, I'm not gonna react, I'm not doing  for you
I'm not sitting around while you are tearing it down around us
I'm not living a lie while you swim in denial
'Cause you're already dead and gone
You'll leave me out on the curb just like everyone else before you
Welcome to my world
Where everyone I ever need always ends up leaving me alone
Another lesson burned and I'm drowning in the ashes
Kicking, screaming, welcome to my world
I don't care what you think, I'm not seeing a shrink, I'm not doing this again
I'm not another student or a mother to take your  out on
So let's see what you got and let's see what you're not
And whatever else you pretend
You've defended my intentions long enough
Welcome to my world
Where everyone I ever need always ends up leaving me alone
Another lesson burned and I'm drowning in the ashes
Kicking, screaming, welcome to my world
So here I am again, in the middle of the end
The choice I wish I'd made, I always make too late
Welcome to my world
Where everyone I ever need always ends up leaving me alone
Another lesson burned and I'm drowning in the ashes
Kicking, screaming, welcome to my world
My world, my world, to my world
My world, my world, to my world
My world, welcome, baby
