Blind Faith

Jennie DeVoe

This house got rusty nails closed doors and a broken rail this house caught fire was a wicked sound rained like hell was a season of gloom forty days went by seemed we were doomed so I put my ear to the ground

Flames got high but it didn't call down came through the lost til we got to the found sometimes you keep pain alive no telling why ain't it funny how the flicker of a dulling pain takes all of your breath and drives you insane of til you finally see that oh

Theres always hope always love blind faith sometimes appears when you think that it won't all you need is blind fail if you keep on crawling upon your knees you're gonna reach your brand new day open your eyes my dear have a little blind faith

This house got rusty nails
closed doors and a broken rail
this house caught fire was a wicked sound Ain't it funny how the flicker of a dulling pain takes all of your breath drives you insane

of til you finally see that oh

Theres always hope, always love blind faith sometimes appears
when you think that it won't all you need is blind faith if you keep on crawlin upon your knees You're gonna reach your brand new day
open your eyes my dear
and have a little blind faith

Lyrics submitted by Marissa Crandal.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/