

Love & Hate (feat. Myk)

Kero One

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

(Verse 1)

(MYK) She's the sun in the early morn, so for surely warm
Keeps the bed nice and toasty like a new born
Baby maybe we'll have one to call our own
Someday soon we'll make a room for the love to grow
Plant the seeds provide the nutrition's
Dance to beats improvise over rhythms
Yeah, we dancing to the beat of the same drum

Taking it back to the love that we came from(Kero One) I know that scent, it makes me lament

Thinking about all the places and time we spent

Roaming the city, really makes me feel shitty

Normally I don't cuss, so you know this really hit me

I mean, I can't eat at that cafÃ© we frequented

Sandwich turns bland soon I sink my teeth in it

Even if I season it, not sure the reason is

I can't get you out of my head, man I'm leaving this..(Chorus)

(MYK) She's the love of my life, I fell for her once

But I'd marry her twice

(Kero One) She was the love of my life, pulling scars off my

Heart it's the struggle I fight

(MYK) She's the love of my life, she's the reason I breathe

The reason I write

(Kero One) She was the love of my life, then she left in a

Breath out of mind out of sight(Verse 2)

(MYK) I still remember the first glimpse, like it was yesterday

Eyes hazel and green she made it seem they'd be the death of me

Her lips so perfect, were like sex to me

Not normally this forward but damn she got the best of me

Waiting on her to message me or should I call first

The game of texting can make it all worse

So I hit her up and tell her I ain't got nothing to prove

Nothing to hide, ain't gonna lie just to kick it with you(Kero One) In slow steps we met, chemistry no question

Cut from different cloths, curse or blessing?
She showed me her perspective, refreshing for sure
Like kids from different gangs breaking the rules for her
Loved her feminine features, a definite keeper
My sentiments reached her, I never would leave her
Who knew tides would change, when I signed my name
On the invisible line, trading my heart for pain
Its ridiculous, how the love game's ubiquitous
I seek comfort in those who know this sickness
Do you feel my ache? dark like liquorish
Pour out some liquor if your out there listening(Chorus)
