

Drive On The Young Side Of Life

Jethro Tull

Your mother she protected you
And softened every blow
And brought you up to fear the worst
To be careful as you go And the learned educators
With drip-feed (thrifty?) facts to fill
You up to here with reason
Well-meaning overkill If you find yourself a-growing to be old before your time
Get off the endless corridor
Set your soul out on the line Drive on the young side of life
When the pressure pains are building
And you're forced to join the crush
In the race to mediocrity
So respectable and plush And while the child within is raging
And threatens to break out
Get off the endless corridor
Make a timely turn about Drive on the young side of life.
