Following You

Shelby Lynne

Following you
as the light falls on the water in the morning
Following you,
watch the day bring longer shadows,
a garden's growin'
I'm just a kid, a baby child,
waiting on direction
from your voices
you're just a king, only a king,
but you made all your choicesFollowing you,
even though you don't know where you were going
Following you,
in your footsteps on the leaves
even knowing I'll pretend, just pretend,
to let you think I don't know nothing Like I'm supposed to I'll prop you up, I'll stand you up,
'til I can keep you in the knowing Your halo's showingFollowing you
Following you
Following you
Following you
Following you
Following you
