

Half Moon

Lindi Ortega

Half moon hanging lonely in the sky
I've been wondering about the part of you that hides
You tucked in to the night
Still you shine a little light
You're a half moon hanging in the sky Sometimes you shine a little more
And you wonder who the stars are falling for
When the wolves howl up at you
It just makes you want to cry
And be a half moon hanging in the sky Sometimes you're eclipsed
Sometimes you are full
And the ocean feels your pull
And there is something beautiful about that Sometimes when I see half of your face
And the rest of you is veiled in midnight lace
It reminds me of myself
And I see that you and I
Are both half moons hanging in the sky
We're both half moons hanging in the sky

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>