

When the Mirror Cracks

Xandria

Took sense and madness as they come, this circus life has left me on my own
My expectations were my home, but when the mirror cracks theres so much left undone

Who betrayed and who deceived?

Loss of what I once believed Feel Im in a dream, scary scenes rush before my eyes

Wake up in a scream, this is real, wheres my paradise?

Drowned by circumstance, innocence crushed under this load

Will it ever end, wheres my life? Disastrous certainties once felt, my vast collection of a better time to tell

Knowing my worst enemy

Weak and helpless, is this me? Feel Im in a dream, scary scenes rush before my eyes

Wake up in a scream, this is real, wheres my paradise?

Drowned by circumstance, innocence crushed under this load

Will it ever end, wheres my life? Late comprehension, a new dimension, a newborn child and its fragile world Feel Im in a dream, scary scenes rush before my eyes

Wake up in a scream, this is real, wheres my paradise?

Drowned by circumstance, innocence crushed under this load

Will it ever end, wheres my life?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>