Lay It Down

Jennifer Knapp

Seeing as I found a rock in my pocket
Seeing as I found a glitch in my soul
Make believe won't hide the truth
When judgment falls and it falls on you
Bend a knee my friend, bend a kneeLay it down, say it's all my fault, all my fault
Say I believe, I believe, lay it down
This the hour of my healing, of my healing, yeahPride can break a man right down from iron
Twist him 'round, 'round and tatter up a soul
Hand print of God on the small of my back
My second chance, my second chance
I'll bend a knee my friend, I'll bend a kneeLay it down, say it's all my fault, all my fault
Say I believe, I believe, lay it down
This the hour of my healing, of my healing, yeahMy heart, my heart redeemed, if it pleases You love
If it pleases You love, if it pleases You loveLay it down, say it's all my fault, all my fault
Say I believe, I believe, lay it down
This the hour of my healing, of my healing, yeah

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/