Feel Me

Krewella

Can't control it but it's coming like a thunder in the sound,
I could feel before I knew it then you slapped me on the ground,
And you took me like I never had that whiskey in my veins,
Ever since, you've been a repeat like the music in my brains.
You feel me, I feel you. I need to know the taste that's on your lips.
And I see only you, 'coz noone's ever touched me there like this.

No more waiting, baby, take it 'til you lose your fucking mind,
I can feel you on my skin and I am slowly going blind.
And your touch is like the only thing that I will ever need,
Sink your teeth into my veins until my heart is on your sleeve.
You feel me, I feel you. I need to know the taste that's on your lips.
And I see only you, 'coz noone's ever touched me there like this.
