

You'll Always Be Loved By Me

Brooks & Dunn

I know forever is a long long time
For a girl to put her heart on the line
Trust is a tight rope we all have to walk
Baby, don't be afraid I won't let you fall
With a little faith mountains move
You and me, we can't lose
You can count on the sun to rise
And the stars to come out at night
As long as there's air to breathe
You'll always be loved by me
Love comes, so many times goes
So much out there we'll never know
Call it fate, call it destiny
But I think we were meant to be
This old world it spins so fast
So many things they just don't last
You can count on the sun to rise
And the stars to come out at night
As long as there's air to breathe
You'll always be loved by me
You can count on the sun to rise
And the stars to come out at night
As long as there's air to breathe
You'll always be loved by me
You'll always be loved by me
