

Moments Forever Faded

Funeral for a Friend

In the black and white, your wounds all bound Sitting at the table, biting nails all short to the consequence of adultery, as he rips you from your skin

We're all paying for this and in your prayers, you believe, would you believe

(chorus)

You believe, you believe (just for the first time)
You believe, you believe (just like the last time)
You believe, you believe (a seam away from breaking)
You believe, you believe (always, forever)

we're tasting you for the first time, just to breathe you in We're breaking you for the first time, we're bathed in sin, we're bathed in sin

(chorus)

The embers will burn you,
the embers will burn you (will burn you)
will burn you, will burn you tonight (will burn you)

moments forever faded will burn you tonight
moments forever faded will burn you tonight
moments forever faded will burn you tonight
moments forever faded will burn you tonight
