

Golden Rule

Hermitage Green

Why give me those eyes
Flanked by your sulken stare
You don't think twice,
You look at each man there One big game is all you're living and all you're think of
You're just the same as all your friends painted with that same dark brush
Don't waste my time to find some fool to reassure yourself
But as a rule, I must refuse to waste another breath Woahh ohoh oh oh oh x4
I watch a queue form every time and pretty, each one in a line
Cos they don't know, won't heed advice that this is standard for your night
But so soon they understand this evening comes to hand
And many gone before, will retreat across the floor One big game is all you're living and all you're think of
You're just the same as all your friends painted with that same dark brush
Don't waste my time to find some fool to reassure yourself
But as a rule, I must refuse to waste another breath Woahh ohoh oh oh oh x4
[Bridge] x2
Whoa ooh ohohoh oh oh oh (repeat)
Please be a smart man, be no fool
Turn your back, keep the golden rule
When the looks fade, nothing left to see
But it's all bout personality x2
