

God Bless Joanna

Neil Sedaka

When the world is all wrong and I can't get along
Deep inside me a voice says "you've gotta be strong"
Just the sound of her words, like the words of a song that comfort me
God bless Joanna

When I'm feelin' uptight and I can't sleep at night
I don't know how she knows but she turns on the light
And I tell her what's wrong and she makes it alright so tenderly
God bless Joanna

Without Joanna life would be no easy thing
She melts the winter when my heart's in need of spring
Just the warmth of her smile and the light in her eyes makes the sun shine
How I love her, how I love her

If my time here on earth was suddenly through
And I stood lookin' back on the world that I knew
And somebody asked "what did life mean to you?"
I'd have to say "God bless Joanna"

Just the warmth of her smile and the light in her eyes makes the sun shine
How I love her, how I love her

If my time here on earth was suddenly through
And I stood lookin' back on the world that I knew
And somebody asked "what did life mean to you?"
I'd have to say "God bless Joanna, God bless Joanna"
