

Borderline

Doprah

V1

I see the borderline

Don't know how to cross it, but I know I want to somehow.

I'm following the signs,

But there's no one leaving any of them out there for me.V2

And these are worthless words hanging in the void. I know that it is futile, why try?

I see the borderline, don't know how to cross it but I know I want to somehow.Wait hey I'm unrefined, why do we still repair?

Wait- change, it's undefined. Why's it so fucked here?

Make, make, I can create - why should I when it breaks?

Fake, fake - we're all insane. Why's it so fucked here?

V3

It's easier to stay, stay inside my comfort zone, I don't want to go outside.
and all the things they say make it even harder just to balance on this tightrope.

I wonder if I'll ever be stable, and hope that if the ground would just be still.

I see the borderline, don't know how to cross it but I know I want to somehow.
