

City Of Corruption

Amberian Dawn

Mother Earth gave the people
All they ever needed, wanted.
They got a paradise to live in
-Eden thrived and prospered.
Life was simple, nature valued,
Earth was giving, the people willing.
Nothing was missing from human
-generous was Mother Earth. In the weak mind of Men jealousy, gluttony took over
And all that they wanted was to own more.
Eden was violated-the vicious, corrupted city
Was swallowed up by the sea and disappeared!
Mother Earth she looked at Eden,
The exploited land, vicious Men.
Took no pity for the city,
Enforced a demise to the land!
She roused the seas to rush to shores,
Swallow all in Eden's doors.
The ingrate people and their city
Taking for granted everything! In the weak mind of Men jealousy, gluttony took over
And all that they wanted was to own more.
Eden was violated-the vicious, corrupted city
Was swallowed up by the sea and disappeared!
In the weak mind of Men jealousy, gluttony took over
And all that they wanted was to own more.
Eden was violated-the vicious, corrupted city
Was swallowed up by the sea and disappeared!
