Too Young To Know

Adam Gregory

They say we're too young to know
We're too young to fall in love
But all I keep dreaming of is marrying you
They say we're too young to know
Then how come it hurts inside
And how come I cry at night when you say we are through
They don't understand a thing
Nothing will change our plans
They say, let it go
'cause we're too young to know
They say we spend too much time together
Too many hours alone
The night on the telephone just me and you

They say it's for our own good
That we should stay apart
But what is a broken heart supposed to do
When tears fall from my eyes
Like rain from the silver skies
Let this heartache go
'cause we're too young to know
And if there's a chance one day
That we could run away would our love grow
They say we're too young to know
