Roller Queen

Naked Raygun

I blame it on my entrance.
It may have seen to much, like confidence.
Let me start it over.
Help me get to what I can from when I did.
All That I know is,
How I can hold on,
All that you see is,
How I let go, let go.

I Had to leave my reasons.
It may have seen to much, the consequence.
In your busy, dizzy life you'd become everything you said you would.
All that I know is how I can hold on but all that you see is how I let you go.
How about once around?
