Life After Death

Occy

Yo, rolled out the bed as the alarm started going off
Rubbed my head with my arm, it was the crack of dawn
I'm late for work and I'm really just hating my job
I kissed my wife goodbye and then I walk across the lawn
Got in the car out the driveway and I'm riding on the road by the mall
Past the highway that I'm flying on
It slows to a crawl 'cause some guy was driving wrong
And I'm getting mad 'cause I'm wondering what is going on"Get out the way", I just scream as I'm driving on
I hate my day and this way that it started off
I change lanes and I thought that I was pulling onto
The main lane but just then I saw this green Honda
It straight came, next thing it was the window shattered
Felt a great pain, my body being bruised and battered
It all changed, went black and I knew I had it
I coughed blood, breathed my last breath that was itWhat ya gonna do when there's no time left?
What ya gonna do when ya take ya last step?
What ya gonna do when ya breathe the last breath
Out ya chest then you find there is life after death?What ya gonna do when there's no time left?
What ya gonna do when ya take ya last step?
What ya gonna do when ya breathe the last breath
Out ya chest then you find that there's life after death there?Next thing I know everything, it just got real quiet
I opened my eyes to my surprise, now it's real silent
I realized that I've died, now it's my Judgment
I'm standing before the most High now and all of a sudden
He said to me, "Why should I let you into My Heaven?"
I told God, "Well, really I'm a good person"
He showed my life and all the times now that I was sinning
Every line to every curse to every bad decisionFrom every lie to every word there was nothing hidden
He showed how Christ died and with my life that I'd killed Him
He showed me time after time how I'd reject Him
I never cared about the sacrifice God had given
I never cared about my life or the way I lived it
And now I've died and it's too late to be forgiven
Guilty of my crime, I'm sentenced to eternal prison
It's dark, I'm alone, I feel my flesh burningWhat ya gonna do when there's no time left?
What ya gonna do when ya take ya last step?
What ya gonna do when ya breathe the last breath
Out ya chest then you find there is life after death?What ya gonna do when there's no time left?
What ya gonna do when ya take ya last step?

What ya gonna do when ya breathe the last breath
Out ya chest then you find that there's life after death there?I got out the bed as the alarm started going off
I scratch my head and then I yawned, it was the crack of dawn
I'm praying and I'm thanking God that I got my job
I kissed my wife goodbye then I walked across the lawn
Got in the car out the driveway and I'm riding on the road by the mall
Past the highway that I'm driving on
It slows to a crawl 'cause some guy was driving wrong
But I'm not mad I just wonder why it's going onI used the time to pray for my family and for my mom
I'm thanking God for the way my day had started off
I change lanes and I thought I was pulling onto
The main lane but doesn't that guy see my green Honda?
He straight came, next thing it was the window shattered
Felt a great pain, my body being bruised and battered
It all changed, went black and I knew I had it
I coughed blood, breathed my last breath, that was itWhat ya gonna do when there's no time left?
What ya gonna do when ya take ya last step?
What ya gonna do when ya breathe the last breath
Out ya chest then you find there is life after death?What ya gonna do when there's no time left?
What ya gonna do when ya take ya last step?
What ya gonna do when ya breathe the last breath
Out ya chest then you find that there's life after death there?Next thing I know everything, it just got real quiet
I opened my eyes, to my surprise now it's real silent
I realized that I've died, now it's my Judgment
I'm standing before the most High now and all of a sudden
He said to me, "Why should I let you into My Heaven?"
I told God, "I never was a good person"
He showed my life and all the times now that I was sinning
Every line to every curse to every bad decisionFrom every lie to every word there was nothing hidden
He showed when His son died and how that I'd killed him
But he showed when I chose Christ and I didn't reject Him
He showed the time when I took the love that God had given
He tried to serve Him through my life whenever I lived it
And now I've died but I thank God that I'm forgiven
He wiped the tears from my eyes as I cried and thanked Him
'Cause forever I'm a be with Him just in HeavenWhat ya gonna do when there's no time left?
What ya gonna do when ya take ya last step?
What ya gonna do when ya breathe the last breath
Out ya chest then you find there is life after death?What ya gonna do when there's no time left?
What ya gonna do when ya take ya last step?
What ya gonna do when ya breathe the last breath
Out ya chest then you find that there's life after death there?

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/