Let Them See You

JJ Weeks Band

Take away the melodies, take away the songs I sing
Take away all the lights and all the songs You let me write
Does the man I am today say the words you need to sayChorus
Let them see You in me let them hear You when I speak
Let them feel You when I sing
Let them see You, let them see You in meWho am I with out Your grace, another smile another face
Another breath a grain of sand passing quickly through Your hand
I give my life an offering take it all take everythingChorusWith every breath I breathe I sing a simple melody
But I pray they'll hear more than a song
In me, in meChorusPublishing: JJWB Music (BMI)/Johnny Ridgecrest Publishing (ASCAP)Writer(s): Jason Weeks, Scotty Willbanks
