Dreams Don't Lie

Darden Smith

I dreamed last night that I was walking with somebody new
I turn the corner and of course, I run right into you
I let go of that woman, and I reached out for your hand
You walked by, as if you could not give a good goddamnThat's me, that's you
And it's so easy to see what's true
When I close my eyes at night, 'cause dreams don't lie
When I close my eyes at night, 'cause dreams don't lieI have this little fantasy that it would be good
To be livin' on my own, then you know I could Just go out to the bars and try to meet somebody new
But when I do, I end up with someone just like youThat's me, well, that's you
And it's so easy to see what's true
When I close my eyes at night, 'cause dreams don't lieI try to run away, but you know I'll always stay
'Cause when I go to sleep at night, these dreams don't lie
When I close my eyes at night, these dreams don't lieAnd you know I think that I just cannot trust my heart
And you know how thinkin' is, it's hard to stop it when it startsLast night we were standing there, children gathered round
Suddenly, I was ten feet up off the ground
And you looked up to see me floatin', grabbed me by the arm
You pulled me back down to the ground, keepin' me from harmThat's me, and that's you
It's so easy to see what's true
When I close my eyes at night, 'cause dreams don't lieI try to run away, but you know I'll always stay
'Cause when I go to sleep at night, these dreams don't lie
When I go to sleep at night, these dreams don't lie
Well, I'm counting all my lucky stars, that dreams don't lie
